Message From Your President

Dear Members,

Another amazing Polka Dot luncheon has come and gone and now it is time to look ahead toward 2018. For the San Fernando Chapter of the Brandeis National Committee, the past year has been a very successful one and plans for the coming year are already in progress.

On January 8, 2018, we will hold our annual University on Wheels event at the American Jewish University. This year, for the first time, it will be a joint venture with the Los Angeles Chapter and the Conejo Valley Chapter. It is very exciting because it offers us a chance to get acquainted with the members of these other chapters and share ideas.

March 20, 2018, our annual Words, Wit and Wisdom Book and Author luncheon will be held at the Skirball. We have already secured an excellent moderator and one author, and Rosemary Rubin and her committee are hard at work lining up additional authors.

Two smaller events will be added in the coming months.

As you can see, the work of our chapter is ongoing and we welcome anyone who is interested in becoming a part of our Board or working with us on any and all of our events. The time commitment is up to you and the rewards are many.

Our most important job is to raise money to help fund the ongoing research at Brandeis but we need help from our members. Invite your friends to our events, encourage the people that you know to join our Chapter and talk about your study groups and Community Service projects when you are out and about. As you look ahead to 2018, please make the BNC a priority.

I wish each of you a wonderful Holiday Season. May you enjoy the blessings of happiness and peace as you share with those you love.

Warmly,
Claire Rabishaw

MISSION STATEMENT

Brandeis National Committee is dedicated to providing philanthropic support to Brandeis University, a distinguished liberal arts and research university founded by the American Jewish community. Its membership is connected to the university through fundraising and through activities that reflect the values on which the university was founded: academic excellence, social justice, nonsectarianism and service to the community.

POLKA DOT LUNCHEON ROSE TO THE TOP AGAIN!

Well ladies, we did it -- another successful Polka Dot Luncheon! Our sincerest thanks to all of you who served on the Committee, helped out the day of and/or supported the event. With 45 fewer attendees than last year, we still managed to almost match last year's profit figures. Our donations were up, and the new Silent Auction was well received.

Everyone loved the flowers, which blended in beautifully with the iced-tea glasses (totally unplanned). And once again the Fashion Show was spectacular!

Our Committee held its wrap-up meeting, we're looking at some new options for next year. Suggestions are welcome.

Looking forward to 2018!
Kay Gordon and Bobbi Kostin

Exploring Jewish Thought Through Food

Summers at Brandeis are anything but quiet!

Genesis, a pre-college program, brings high school students from around the world to campus to take experiential-learning classes that explore Jewish thought, culture and identity. One class, “Discovering the Art and Anthropology of Jewish Food,” taught by Elizabeth Alpern and Jeffrey Yoskowitz, encourages students to learn basic culinary skills while thinking critically about the role food has played in the formation of their Jewish identity.

High school student Betsy, from Chicago, made her grandmother’s recipe for chocolate-orange cookies in class. Betsy talked about the role this recipe (from a cookbook) plays in her family. She said her grandmother is the hostess of their large (15 to 25 people) family. And that she loves sharing her ideas and her recipes.

For Betsy’s Bat Mitzvah her grandmother made all kinds of cookies that people helped themselves to throughout the afternoon. And Grandma was delighted that Betsy was sharing this recipe with the class.

According to the teachers of the class, food connects us to the people we love. It builds community in kitchens (and classrooms) across the world.

CHOCOLATE-ORANGE COOKIES

Pre-heat oven to 350 degrees.

Stir together these dry ingredients:

2 ½ cups all-purpose flour

1 tsp. baking powder

¼ tsp. salt

Then melt 8 oz. bittersweet chocolate and cool;

Chop 4 oz. chocolate, finely.

In separate bowl, add:

2 cups light brown sugar

8 oz. unsalted butter, room temperature

2/3 cup unsweetened cocoa

1 tsp. pure vanilla extract

2 tsp. finely-grated orange zest

Mix on medium-speed for 4 minutes

Add:

Finely-chopped chocolate

3 eggs (beat batter after each addition)

Cooled chocolate

Dry ingredients

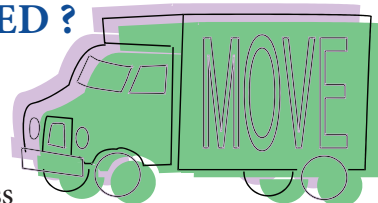

Mix at low speed. Scoop up batter with ice cream scoop; roll scooped dough into a ball with hands. Lightly dip one side in flour for top of cookie. Place on baking sheet; Bake 11 minutes, then sprinkle with sugar.

Cool 5 minutes; Serve.

Nobelist Sparks Laughter With Lab Joke

With characteristic envelope-pushing humor, Michael Rosbash, winner of the 2017 Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine, couldn't help dropping a joke into a press conference Monday morning about the life of a scientist.

In the library of Brandeis University, where he has taught for over 40 years, Rosbash told a packed crowd of colleagues, university administrators and students – and an untold number of viewers watching the live stream – about a Frenchman, an Englishman, and a scientist who were pondering whether it would be better to have a wife or a mistress.

After the Frenchman and the Englishman disagreed on the relative merits of the two, the scientist weighed in.

“The scientist said, ‘No, no, you need them both, because after dinner you can tell your wife you’re with your mistress, and you can tell your mistress you’re with your wife. And then you can go back to the lab!’” Rosbash said, to much laughter.

Rosbash's colleagues say the joke was indicative of his temperament: serious about science – and about making people laugh.

Rosbash's prize was shared with Jeffrey Hall and the Rockefeller University scientist Michael Young. The three discovered genetic mechanisms that govern the circadian rhythm, the day-long cycle that governs metabolism, hormones, brain activity and many other processes in animals and humans.

STUDY GROUP CORNER

NOVEMBER 2017

MORE ON PENDING STUDY GROUPS

Men's Let's Talk Sports, Impressionist Art – Both of these groups, after a period of time, had enough people to form an ongoing group. Today, three or four years later, those groups are still meeting and thriving. We're working on starting another Men's Let's Talk Sports. Men, let me hear from you.

Singles – Go to services and then share dinner. This is a very popular group in some of the other Brandeis chapters. A very nice way to spend Shabbat evening. We had our first meeting, but could accommodate a few more people.

Happy Hour – Had our first meeting with three people. Could use a few more. Want to keep it small so you can talk with each other, and it's easier to get a table. We have one group that formed and they are having lots of fun sampling the various Happy Hour locations – and there are a lot of them in the Valley.

Widowhood: New and Old – A good place to come and share your feelings and learn tricks of how to survive this huge loss. This is not a bereavement group.

Gourmet Lunch Group – Had the first meeting. Just need a few more people to keep group small enough for everyone to be able to enjoy their meals and camaraderie.

Jewish Ethics and Aging – Two ideas that came in. Both sound like they could be very interesting.

If there is a group you'd like to be in that we don't have, let me know and we'll "get the ball rolling". Have ideas you think might work as a Study Group? Let me know. Anything can happen when we list them in Pending New Groups.

Your San Fernando Valley Chapter is now an Amazon Associate!

From now on, the SFV Chapter and Brandeis benefit whenever you make purchases from Amazon through our website. Our chapter will get 10% back on e-books, 5% on paper books, and 5% of anything else that Amazon sells.

To use this amazing new connection, go to www.brandeissfv.org and click the Amazon button on the left side of the Home page. No Keyword is necessary. Then proceed as usual. When you place your order, you will be asked where to bill and ship. Enter your information as you have in the past. Amazon will credit our chapter account automatically as long as your purchase is made and completed through our website.

ONLY by using this port are you (and your family and friends) able to shop as always on Amazon and benefit our chapter at the same time. It costs you nothing — the price for your Amazon goods is the same as if you went directly to Amazon. So please help us in this innovative new way to enhance our contributions to Brandeis neuroscience research and student scholarships.
